DETAILED ACTION

1. This application has been reassigned to a new Examiner. See Conclusion § below, for new Examiner contact Information.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new election/restriction requirement.

Election/Restrictions

3. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8 and 17-22, drawn to establishing and/or acquiring a resource model and an application model, and a mapping process, classified in class 718, subclass 104 (Resource allocation).
- II. Claims 9-13, drawn to “determination of feasible servers; analyzing if a desirable assignment configuration is available if there are enough feasible servers; saving an optimal feasible assignment variable in an application mapping template if a desirable assignment configuration is available; sending said optimal feasible assignment variable to an application deployment service; and computing remaining resources and updating a resource configuration template”, and Claims 14-16 directed to “determining if there is a need to add more servers; performing a removal mapping process if no more servers are required; performing an additional mapping process if more servers are required; and deactivating a resource allocation service and waiting for a new request” classified in class 709, subclass 226.

4. Inventions II and I are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, Invention II has separate utility such determination function determining if there are adequate amount possible servers, analyzing desired objectives configurations in accordance with the availability of the servers, saving and communicating optimal desired objective variable to an application deployment service; and functional limitations directed addition and removal of servers resources, which is not done in invention I. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: Species A (Claims 9-13) and Species B (Claims 14-16). The species are independent or distinct because both are directed to patentably different functional limitations. Species A is distinct invention, which corresponds to Fig. 6 (also disclosed below) and Species B is another distinct invention, which corresponds to Fig. 7 (also disclosed below).

Group II corresponding to Fig.6

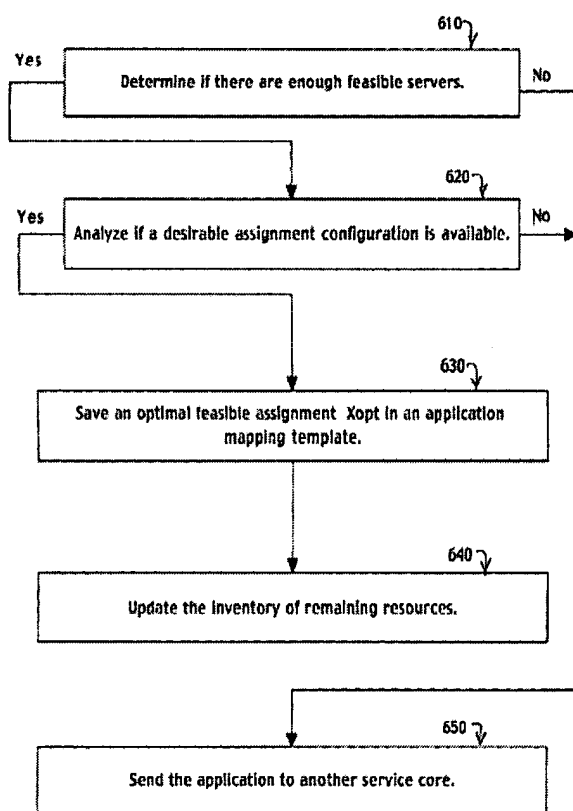

Fig 6

Group III corresponding to Fig.7

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, none of the claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

7. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Yemane M. Gerezgiher whose telephone number is (571) 272-3927. The examiner can normally be reached on 9:00 AM - 6:00 PM Mon - Fri.
